Exercise 54

CREATING A QUIZ

Americans, having thrown off the idea of a monarchy, are fascinated by...British royalty! This exercise, meant for your study, presents a quiz, and then grades the completed quiz.

If you feel like doing a little something more than study, try your hand at turning all the questions and answers into a data structure, then processing the data structure to display it on the page (rather than the uglier, hard-coded way I did it).
